Break Free

Our award-winning technology allows you to scale and move at speed. Break free from the constraints of the multiple legacy systems you accumulated as user needs evolved. Deliver a new level of employee development and extended enterprise training where information silos are eliminated and collaboration enhanced.

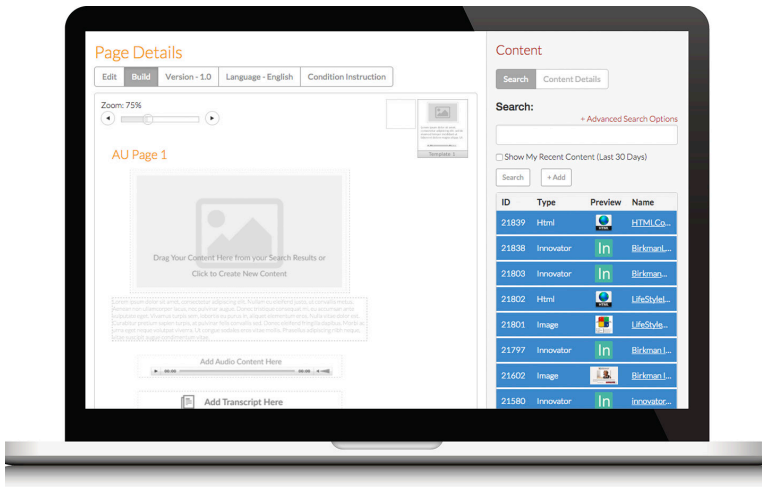

The LCMS allows everyone to be a content curator. Content is the basic building block in the CD2 platform. (Defined as an element - a single, distinct type of information.) Elements are grouped into three categories: uploaded files, authored content, and embedded resources. Assign multiple users/administrators to work in collaboration and effectively manage your organization's content.

2015 Brandon Hall Award Winner

2015 American Business Awards Stevie® Award Finalist:

New Product or Service of the Year - Content - Content Rights and Delivery Solution
New Product or Service of the Year - Software - Content Management Solution

CD2 manages content, resulting in a higher degree of flexibility and value. By replacing multiple, rigid legacy systems with a single comprehensive solution, CD2 frees you from the many constant challenges posed by creation, usage, and management of content.

Organizations realize significant ROI through increased efficiency of authoring/managing content, learning and collaboration.

LCMS features:

- Rapidly add elements using intuitive drag-and-drop interface
- Easily find and reuse elements through searchable metadata
- Manage multiple languages across the same element
- Track changes with integrated version control
- Change content element just once to update everywhere, instantly
- Tag elements to track and report on outcomes/competencies
- Create interactive, highly engaging material using prebuilt, responsive HTML5 templates
- Assemble multiple types of elements onto pages using a drag-and-drop interface
- Add content elements to better frame collaborative discussions
- Report on content element viewing patterns and frequency
